The seasons four are a great gift;
one to another they all drift
as time goes on from young to old and summer's heat to winter's cold.
The circle of eternity,
the season's simple mystery,
bring constant change into the year;
each season has its special cheer.

Yearbook Dedication:
Mr. Tony Modica

Mr. Tony Modica has served his students at MHS not only as a renowned teacher, but a FRIEND. His unmatched ability to connect with students is instrumental to their learning and success. He is WITTY and DYNAMIC, INTELLIGENT & full of knowledge. He makes students think more widely to stimulate their brains. His views and philosophies of life and society are significant in his influence upon his students. Not only does he have the wonderful skill to connect with a huge variety of kids, he teaches and ENCOURAGES them to help others. Mr. Modica is one of the most GENUINE and KIND-HEARTED teachers MHS has. He is TRUSTWORTHY, and easy to talk to, and is OUTGOING and makes students think about what's important both in and out of school.

Mr. Modica built the Academic Learning Center from the ground up, with its main focus of helping students improve their MCAS scores ensuring that all students pass the test and graduate. He enrolls seniors in this program to act as tutors for underclassmen and trains them on how to effectively teach and explain. He promotes learning at all costs, without hesitation. He is truly an inspiration to all who are fortunate enough to know him.

It is with great pride and distinction that the Class of 2004 dedicate our yearbook to Mr. Tony Modica...

A TRUE EDUCATOR in every sense of the word.

The 2004 yearbook staff convened as a team on the first Tuesday of the school year. This meeting paved the way for what would be a challenging, yet inspirational journey, in which we would conquer many obstacles in order to accomplish our ultimate goal: to create the most original and MEMORABLE yearbook MHS has ever seen.

As a team, and through much input from the yearbook's adviser, Miss Murphy, we learned the importance of cooperation and communication along with the value of POSITIVE criticism. Our theme, "The Season Finale", was based on a vision created by the editors through many discussions and carried throughout the book. We wanted the theme to stress that we, as an entire class, were a part of something GREAT: the class of 2004. Graduating does not mean that a chapter in our life has come to a close. Instead it is one great finale of memories and events we have shared. Just as a season ends, another begins, always changing and always growing.

Tuesday nights tested our personalities with more challenges than we can name here. Without the support of many people and organizations, the yearbook's production would have been a lengthy and extremely difficult process. We would like to thank Rich, part of the MHS janitorial staff for making sure we got in the building and took care of use while we were here. We'd also like to thank Dave Redding for the UNBELIEVABLE pictures he took and the number of cd's he gave us, and Mike Redding for delivering them as soon as possible. Special thanks to all the faculty members, students and parents for submitting pictures that helped capture the variety of smiles and memories within each page.

There are over 2,000 pictures in the '04 Nest and the price tag of this yearbook reached $24,000 this year, and it would not have been possible without the generous contributions of local businesses and parents. The yearbook was sold for $55 each, leaving the remaining balance to be raised through business and parents ads. Kelly Whittaker and Laura Wheeler proved their worth as the year progressed and were promoted as the Business Editors. They took on the job with not only maturity, but determination as they raised the needed funds and spent Tuesday nights organizing all the finances (and sometimes did the same thing twice!). The MHS yearbook has come a long way and this is only the second year that every page was designed on the computer using PageMaker. Layout Editors Matt Holt and Steph Warner took great pride in every layout and their CREATIVITY gave each page it's individual flare. They tirelessly spent hours adjusting, stretching and unlocking objects (Matt loves to lock them!) and their hard work is evident within each page .

Student Life Editor Katelyn Sankey carefully chose each picture with the entire student body in mind when she set out to capture the events of MHS. People Editor Courtney Donahue would not settle for anything but the best when she took on her section. She took the digital camera around the school, trying to capture everyone's smile and as many freshmen, sophomores and juniors as possible. For any yearbook, no other section is more important than the senior section. Senior Editors Justin Nanfelt and Jen Duggan endlessly cropped pictures and wrote captions, read through all the senior memories and counted superlatives, put BFF together and uniquely captured the senior favorites. Their constant ENTHUSIASM (Justin's "weird-faces" page) gave the yearbook much of it's Originality and Spirit. Sports editors John Davis and Abbey Turner carefully sifted through pictures taken by Chestnut Hill. Their goal was that each sports page reflected the PRIDE and INTENSITY MHS student-athletes are known for. Along with John and Abbey, Miss Murphy's journalism class wrote many of the articles for the sports pages which helped meet important deadlines. Tim Johnston's unbelievable writing and editing skills were noticed early on by Miss Murphy and her staff, as he was promoted to the position of Copy Editor. Tim took on this remarkable responsibility and was an important contribution at our meetings.

Leading our team was the HEART and SOUL of the yearbook, our adviser, Miss Murphy. It was through her passion and drive that we learned the very essence of teamwork. There is never a day that goes by that she did not teach us something new. Thanks to her Knowledge and GUIDANCE we were able to produce, (in your words Murph) "The best yearbook ever!" Thank you for always teaching us to be prepared (Murphy's Law) and pushing us to do our BEST and never settle for anything less!

We hope you look back upon these pages in the years to come and find yourselves smiling at what once was, and what still may be, that as each page turns you take pride in our town, remembering the faces and places which have touched your life in so many ways, and influenced the last thirteen years of your school days. We also hope each member of the Class of 2004 understands that we took great pride in preparing this yearbook for you. This is our

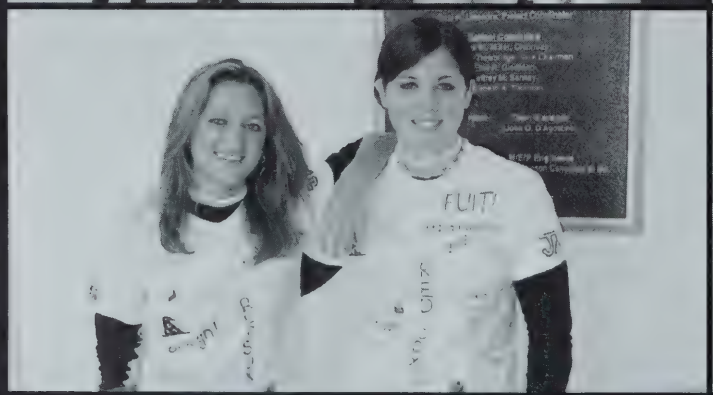
When the trees begin to explode with a mass of vibrant colors , the temperatures progressively get colder, and the days begin to get shorter everyone knows that its time to hit the books again! Green and white enthusiasm takes over throughout the halls at MHS as homecoming approaches, and Coach Redding prepares our school and his team for a promising season; in the hopes of achieving gridiron glory.

There is nothing as pleasant as Autumn's scarlett leaves rustling and blowing in the wind, while our fall sport teams battle hard to attain victory and recognition for both team and school.

SPIRIT WEEK 2003



"It was fun to see Courtney Donahue dressed up as Captain Planet."
~Ashley O'Meara

"During spirit week it was cool to see all the effort everyone put into their costumes."
~Laura Wheeler and Stephanie Warner

"What can I say? It was the most original Superhero I could think of."
~Court Donahue

Showing off their creativity and school pride, those who participated in Spirit Week demonstrated that Mansfield High School represents the epitome of school spirit, shown each and every day as students arrived in their most outrageous attires. To begin the week, Mansfield High looked like a scene from a comic book. Monday's Superhero day brought in characters ranging from an oversized Captain Planet to the original Superman. On Tuesday, we were seeing double as students dressed to impress for Twin Day. From striped tights and colorful boas to a posse of angels and devils, it was hard to tell one student from his or her mirror image. Wednesday was a blast from the past, having not only students participating, but teachers as well. Math teacher Paul Speakman displayed his '60's hippie pride, while students wore everything from togas to bright spandex straight out of the '80s. Thursday turned Mansfield High School into a red carpet venue. Celebrity look-alikes such as Kelly Osbourne and Marilyn Monroe walked through the corridors and attended classes. Friday was the chance for Mansfield students to display their hornet pride. Decked from head to toe in green and white, students donned football jerseys, cheerleading uniforms and even green wigs. Mansfield students never cease to show their true pride and Spirit Week is just another way to show off.

"It was a fun thing to be a part of, especially for seniors. It was well planned out and everyone participated."
~Tracy Renault

HOMECOMING

Homecoming '03 started off with a bang this year at the annual rally where all four classes competed in various spirit competitions. The seniors dominated by taking first place in each event: the spirit links, the tug-o-war and the scooter relay race. One by one the 2003 Homecoming court was announced and Queen Ashley Shaker and King Ray Bauters were adorned with their crown and sash. Saturday morning the Mansfield community took to the streets for the annual parade. Each year the battle for the first place prize becomes more and more competitive and this year was a race like none other. Each grade expressed their Hornet pride with elaborate floats and the sophomore class won first place with their creative rendition of "KP's Nightmare." The parade ended at Memorial Park where Mansfield students and fans cheered on the Hornet football team to their 41-20 victory over the Warriors. Later that night everyone celebrated at the dance, a perfect end to an exciting Homecoming week.

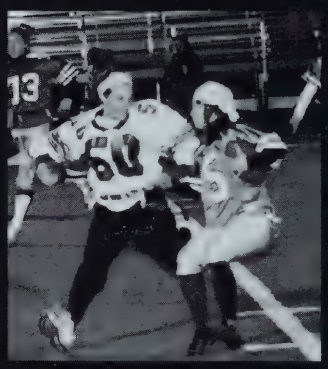
SENIOR FLOAT

Junior Kailin Collins looks down field to complete a pass, while later in the game senior Corey DiFlaminies reaches for a loose ball that has been knocked out of a junior opponent's hand.

The Powder Puff football game was once again a roaring success this year as the competition heated up between the Junior and Senior classes. Strategically held the night before the annual Thanksgiving football game, the girls got a taste of the game and helped fire up the spirits of the student body. With the help of varsity football players, the girls plotted for weeks about strategies and game plans.

As the sun set and the lights cast shadows over the turf field, sixty Junior and Senior girls entered the field accompanied by the Junior and Senior members of the football team. Immediately following the kickoff, it became clear to both teams, as well as the spectators and coaches, that this would not be an easy win situation for either side. Both teams had strong offensive and defensive lines, and executed their plays with an unwavering effort to triumph over their rivals.

Once again, the Seniors dominated over the Juniors in an exciting 28-22 victory. Girls donning the varsity shirts and taking the turf field has become a fiercely competitive tradition here at MHS and the seniors tend to be victorious; this year was no exception. The annual Powder Puff game at MHS proves that girls too can play football, despite the common disbelief.



As the game progressed, the battle between the juniors and the seniors heated up as both classes executed their tightest defensive lines.

The aggressiveness shown by Brianne Bowes throughout the entire game was key in leading the seniors to another victory.

Top 5 Signs You're A Freshman

1. Your Parents have to pick you up at the movies.
2. You're kicked out of your lunch table at the start of each term.
3. You never know which bathroom is open.
4. You only have five spirit links at the homecoming rally.
5. Guys can't stand girls because they hang out with older guys.

Voted New England's Coach of the Year by the New England Patriots, Mike Redding led his team to the greatest undefeated season in the school's history.

THE PERFECT SEASON

As the last whistles blew on December 13, 2003 at Rocky Marciano Stadium, the final chapter in the quest for a perfect season was completed. The 2003 Mansfield Hornet Football team will go down in the record books as the best team in school history. The senior class would not be denied their last opportunity to get lucky win #13. Anything less than perfection would have been a dissappointment. Since freshmen year, the senior players were destined for greatness and to wear the coveted Super Bowl Rings.

The season began on the hot banks of Lake Winnipasaukee in New Hampshire. The bonds of friendship formed at camp would prove to be unbreakable as the season progressed. The team began their regular season with a decisive 34-12 victory over perennial Division 4 powerhouse, Old Rochester Regional. After two lopsided wins against non-league foes Attleboro and Billerica, the Hornets looked strong heading into one of the biggest games of the year against North Attleboro. This game would prove to be the championship game, coming in only the fourth week of the season. At the end of the half, captain Tom Farrell made an unbelievable catch and waltzed into the end zone giving the Hornets a 7-0 lead. The Hornets dominated the rest of the game and sent the once unbeatable Red Rocketeers home on the bus crying for comfort from their mothers.

En route to the Thanksgiving game, the Hornets put up almost 400 total points while holding their opponents to a mere 60. With a trip to the playoffs on the line for the annual turkey day game, the Hornets shut out the Warriors quickly with an offensive onslaught that lit up the scoreboard for 35 points. The final score was 35-0 and it was time to eat some turkey.

The goal that the seniors had set four years before came true. They never surrendered, and on a cold evening in late December, the Hornets were Superbowl champs.

It was a season of both success and sadness as the field hockey team finished the season with an overall record of 12-5-5, qualifying for the state tournament in Coach Leda Levine's last season as head coach.

The team's success can be attributed to the guidance of Coach Levine and her staff, as well as the team's never-say-die attitude which carried the team deep into the state tournament. In the first round, the team breezed by Cohasset, 5-1. In the second round, the Hornets met up with powerhouse Canton. Melissa DePierro scored the game's only goal, as Mansfield won the exciting game, 1-0. In the next round, the Hornets fought through the rain and beat Foxboro in an overtime thriller, 1-0. The team finally met its match in the fourth round, losing to Harwich, 4-0. Even though they lost, the Hornets played hard the entire game, with unparalleled sportsmanship.

Another contributing factor to the success of the team was its depth, which included six sophomores. Every girl could play, and play well. Jessica Keefe and Melissa DePierro were named to the Hockomock All-Star team. Kerry Gilmore and Johnna Todesco were among the most underrated defensive players in the Hock.

Next season's captains, Kerry Gilmore and Johnna Todesco, will have to lead the team to another successful season under a new coach. Look for DePierro, Strickland, and Angers to be among the top scorers in the Hock', and for Molly McGowan to become a strong offensive force as well. And for all of the people who think that the team won't be the same without Coach Levine, Jessica Keefe remains optimistic, saying, "Even though Ms. Levine has left, she will leave an everlasting impression and will be missed. The team will find their focus on the task at hand and continue climbing the ladder to success."

The boys varsity soccer tean started the 2003 season off like neve before. The boys began with a 9- record, closing in on ten wins and spot in the Division 2 State Tournament Led by senior co-captains Ryan Gordy and Adam Tedeschi, the team set th best record of all time for Mansfiel Varsity Soccer. The boys finished 11 7-2 and reached their team goal o qualifying for the State Tournament.

This year's team finishe second in the Hockomock, one of th more competetive leagues in the state They put up better numbers than mos Mansfield soccer teams in the pas could only dream of. Both Gordy an Tedeschi were chosen as Hockomoc League All-Stars and Sun Chronicle All Stars. Two very impressive juniors, K.C Smith and Thomas Hernon wer selected for these awards as well. Thes four players helped set a team record, for the most player selected as Hockomock League All-Stars. Four out o eleven selections all came from this highly-powere Mansfield squad.

Senior co-captain Ryan Gordy said, "our coac is really making Mansfield Soccer into a top notc program, not only in the Hockomock League but also i the state." Coach George Giannaouloudis led this senio powered team in the right direction all the way to the firs round of the tournament versus Somerset.

In this final game for the boys, the team faced lot of hard luck. The boys lost the game 1-0, despit dominating Somerset the entire game. With a outstanding defensive effort from Tedeschi and junic Tom Herrick, Somerset was shut down in the first half. I the second half, Gordy hit the crossbar twice, missing th goal by mere inches. In the end, the team realized tha they had accomplished what they had longed for so muc a sense of recognition and respect throughout th Hockomock League.

Combined with great defense by sophomore Nicole Lawlor (above) and superior offense by Jill Johnson (right), the girls soccer team showed the true meaning of teamwork.

WE ARE FAMILY

Despite struggling on the field, the girls soccer team never quit; they kept the right attitude and played to win in every game. Several players on the team worked hard and it showed. Coach Melissa Sankey experimented continuously with new things and got to know her team very well. Her knowledge of the strengths and weaknesses of her players will be crucial for future success.

Sophomore Kelly Regan had an outstanding season for the Hornets, winning the team M.V.P. award. Senior Michelle Whitty was an offensive powerhouse scoring eight goals to lead the Hornets' scoring attack. Defensively, senior Alicia Zonenshine did not get enough recognition; she is an excellent defender and did a great job throughout the season. Junior Julie Smith kept up her reputation this season as an aggressive defender winning the team's Most Aggressive Player award. Sophomore defender Adrienne Steinhoff won the Unsung Hero award because no one in the Hockomock League hustles more or plays as hard as her.

Elected captains, Julie Smith and Ashley Drake will have to display profound leadership in order for the team to be competitive enough to get back into the tournament next year. While the girls have some work to do, there is a lot of upcoming talent from the underclassmen. Look for upcoming juniors Hillary Steinhoff, Erin Higgins, Jess Ivas, Jackie Eastman, and Adrienne Steinhoff to have an enormous impact on the team next season.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

BORN TO RUN

Leadership proved to be a priceless asset to the boys cross country team in the fall. Co-captain Joe Regan was a work horse during the summer and throughout the season, setting a standard for the team and sending them on the road to success. His love for running and will to improve, pushed his teammate's towards success throughout the season. Co-captain Tom Perry showed a different type of leadership, he lead by example. His perfect form and running style was a precious model for the underclassmen to follow. These two captains were an exceptional duo, and when teamed up with Coach Collins' knowledge there was nothing but positive results. Coach Collins did a terrific job drawing the potential from her athletes and improving their times each week.

After finishing 5-3 last year, one year removed of the title Hock Champions, this year's team was hungry to regain its status. There was no stopping the Hornets once they got started, they ran consistently well sweeping the competition and finishing 8-0 in their tri-meet season, bringing the Hock Championship back to Mansfield. Matt Meagher was the stand out runner for the Mansfield squad; he finished second in the league championship meet, earned a spot on the Hock All-Star squad, and won the team M.V.P. award. Tom Perry, Joe Regan, Matt Anderson and Mike Caeran also did an exceptional job for the Hornets, contributing to each win. Anderson and Caeran were voted captains for next year's team.

Following a fourth place finish i the Hockomock League in '02, expect tions were high for the girls cross-count team. With all their best runners comi back, Coach John Finn anticipated a n table season. The team was led to a su cessful 7-1 record by its captains Shawn Sullivan and Christine Miller who provide good work ethic for the underclassme to follow, making it a triumphant season

The team's star runners, junio Kailin Collins and Katie Brague, as we as sophomore Lauren Brown, each rep resented Mansfield on the Hockomoc All-Star team. Perhaps one of the mo important impacts on the team this yea was Collins' decision to do cross-country in stead of soccer. During her first season, she ca tured the award for team M.V.P. Brague ha a breakout season which was crucial to th success of the team, as she out performed ex pectations. Brown was the anchor of the team having her second outstanding season in row.

Providing depth and confidence for th team were not only the recognized stars, bu also Kelly McMullen, Christine Mille Shawna Sullivan, Liz Micale, Kate Sankey and Kelly Whittaker. Each girl has talent an contributed to the victory filled season.

Next year's captains Katie Brague and Kell McMullen hope to make the season as success ful as this past year. Coach Finn will be countin on them to come in with the proper attitude an enthusiasm.

Expectations soared for the golf team this past fall, and the team wasted no time preparing to fulfill them. The team started the season with a trip to Killington, VT, for some boot camp golf and team unification. They played 36 holes a day on a course in the mountains, conditioning them for the endurance they'd need during the season. Co-captains Tim Johnston and Andy Keenan hoped to set a precedent for the golf program in the future by scheduling the end of summer trip.

After a slow start, Coach Kelly asked Johnston and Keenan to take on their responsibilities as captains and rally the team back to par. With confidence and leadership, the captains inspired the team and gave Kelly what he asked for, six straight victories. The Hornets could not have turned the things around had it not been for the pre-season trip to Vermont which united them and created unbreakable bonds. The players trusted each other, and each teammate took part in reaching the goal of qualifying for the state tournament.

The team finished their season 9-7, their best record since 1992. At the team banquet Coach Kelly said, "I am very proud of the turn around you guys made during the season; you owe it to yourselves to be pleased with the end result. People made sacrifices and worked hard to improve their game; it was an excellent job all around." Among the many individual accomplishments, Andy Keenan won his fourth team MVP award in as many years, and also shared Hockomock League MVP honors with Scott Congdon of Foxboro. Keenan was not only voted MVP of his team, but he proved to be the best individual player in the league with his victory at the Hockomock Individuals Tournament, firing an 8 over-par score of 79 at Norton Country Club. Seniors Dan Ferrari, Denis Condon, Dan Buckley, Leo MacDonald, and Tim Johnston also contributed heavily to the qualifying for the tournament with Ferrari being named Most Improved Player. Sophomore Brian Kulick and freshman Connor Hayes showed signs of stardom by putting up low scores. Captains for 2004 Andy Olson and Brian Kulick, will have to prove they're capable of filling the shoes of Keenan and Johnston, both on and off the green.

(Above) Captain Andy Keenan on making the state tourney: "We looked at our schedule and the next six teams were beatable, so we set our goal to get to a 6-5 record and that's what we did. This restored our team's confidence and stepped up the play of a lot of guys. We were on track from there and headed directly into the state tournament for the first time in eleven years."

VOLLEYBALL

HIT THE BALL OR HIT THE FLOOR

The girls of the Mansfield High chool Volleyball team are the finition of teamwork. Of course this d not happen without the guidance new head coach Caroline Finn, ssistant Coach Vanessa Mason, a evious Hornet herself, and Manager bby Miller. This close-knit group of rls help each other in any way they n whether it's on or off the court.

The team's setter, Senior co-ptain and MVP Desiree Petty, ways kept the team uplifted with her bbly spirit and outgoing personality. o-captain Leanne Bertrand always spired the girls to work their hardest ith her competitive edge and love of e game. Along with Leanne, Katie arling and Shayna Goldman were the nior hitters of the team with their aggressive moves the net. Seniors Lisa Giammanco and Kristin mpson were known for their defensive skills and uickness. With amazing speed and accuracy, Tracy enault and Abbey Turner, the strong senior servers f the team, always got the ball over the net as well s making defensive contributions.

The 2004 co-captains Rachel Buchanan nd Kristen Romanko will keep the team going rong in the upcoming season. Juniors Alicia Dean, ina Grant, Emilee Greco and Marianne Quinlan ring a competive edge to the team as well as ophomore standouts Gina Candela, Cindy onquest and Hilary Turner. This group of highly lented girls are sure to make a mark in the lockomock league in the future.

CHEERLEADING

WE GOT THE SPIRIT STICK

The cheerleading squad, led by captains Courtney Donahue and Amanda McNeil, was always there to support the football team and rile up the crowd. Each individual cheerleader was dedicated to the players, giving them support and candy after each game. The team stayed loud and proud throughout the long thirteen game schedule. They performed through heat strokes and freezing cold weather.

The team should be congratulated on their outstanding finishes in their cheerleading meets. They placed 3rd in the Sandwich Meet. At MMA, the team placed first and the team was awarded "The Superior Team Award". This award is presented to the team that displayed the most teamwork throughout the day.

At summer camp, Christine Connolly and Toni-Ann D'Innocenzo were selected as all-stars, which allowed them to participate in a cheerleading parade during the winter in London. After attending summer camp, the squad held a cheer camp of their own for elementary school students. The cheerleaders worked hard in the week-long camp, teaching over sixty girls about cheering, dancing, and team work.

Coach Sharon Guthrie has made considerable strides with the cheerleading program over the past three years. Her hard work and knowledge of routines gives the girls direction and confidence. The girls look up to her for guidance and advice and she doesn't let them down.

Winter

On one chilly day the Autumn's done, and the first white snow has begun. It's time to watch the weather channel religiously and pray for blizzards (or simply severe cold!). Snowdays, here they come (best news for seniors, who don't have to make them up!) With the temperatures rapidly dropping, we bundle up in layers to escape the bitter cold. Skiiers and snowboarders love the thought of cruising down the slopes in sub-zero temperatures. The first vacation gives us a chance to sleep late and enjoy indoor sports. And how 'bout them Pats??

Window Painting

Each year, with paint brushes in hand, the udents of Mansfield High School venture out into e town to decorate the windows of local businesses ith festive holiday scenes. Once again the student's fort, energy, and dedication towards the fundraiser sulted in another successful year. The project raised er $3,400 for The Citizen Scholarship Founda- n, with more than 200 students participating in the nual event. The holiday painting not only displays e town's spirit, but its support for the graduating niors as well. The money that has been raised will towards senior scholarships at the end of the year, sisting college-bound seniors with their tuition fees.

The event is open to all students interested, ho are willing to be messy and have fun while play- g an active part in caring for their community. Among e participants were first place seasonal holiday win- rs, Gina D'Ambra, Alex McDermott, Brittany elson and Emily Pfiel, with their painting "Arielle's hristmas" at Cape Cod Lumber. First place busi- ss holiday winners, Pat Clare, Andrew Broderick nd Adam Carlson, with their painting " Santa's car" Lance Buick.

Performing Arts

In Spanish and in life, Keith Pinault plays the role of the jester well.

Calling all Actors and Actresses! In the Barbara Trombley auditorium, talent is found from the back of the stage to the cameras on the opposite side of the building. Actors, producers, directors, and technicians all work endlessly to perfect their performances. Beginning the year with the 3rd annual Madrigal Dinner, the cafeteria is transformed into a medieval setting. The show featured dancers, singers, actors, and a three-course meal. Seniors Josh Kenney and Christine Connolly were the king and queen of the MHS Royal Court, bringing laughter and enjoyment to a sold out crowd. Following this production, Ms. Monroe directed the winter play, "Murder in the First Person Singular." This murder mystery had the audience jumping from their seats. This mystery has continued the tradition of performing a non-musical production every year. However, in the spring, Ms. Monroe and her drama students will be performing "Grease." The cast will be working hard each day to produce another successful piece of art. The performing arts group will continue to fill the seats of the auditorium and cafeteria with their outstanding performances.

The set of "Murder in the First Person Singular" was a work of art for the crew and cast.

Behind the Musicians

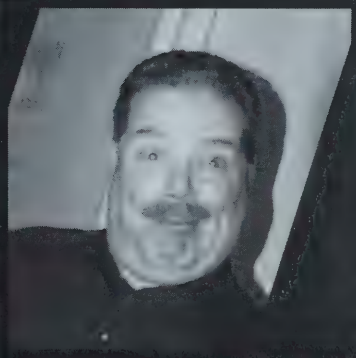
The Music program at Mansfield is nown for its very diverse and unique quali- es. Under the guidance of Mr. Peter Conti, zz, percussion, orchestra and rock band pro- ams provide the school with entertainment rallies, concerts and other school gather- gs. The Band is attends each football game, essed to the nines and ready to play. They pro- de the crowd with rally songs and upbeat tunes enhance and bring out Hornet spirit. They host e annual Christmas concert as well as carol- g through the hallways during the day. Within the udent body are many bands that play all kinds f music and even at large venues. The music rogram expanded its offering into the school day the start of this year and although it may not be rge, it has quite a bit to offer. Whether your terests lie in rock history or musicianship, con- rt choir or percussion, classes within the music epartment cover theories and history of mu- c, give students the chance to practice and master eir craft during the school day, and provide stu- ents more insight into this world of notes and lyr- s beyond the instruments.



Always there to provide a few laughs, Mr. Conti is the fearless leader of all things musical at MHS.

Senior Eric Stiner takes pride in his step, as well as his outfit, as he marches on the field for a performance.

Project Teammate

Project teammate is a program designed to prepare cial needs students for the world outside Mansfield High ool. Both the teammate and the project learn strong life ons throughout the course. Project teammate accomplishes goal of readying the students for life after high school ugh a foundation of friendship and teamwork. Students ing the class are partnered with a student that battles a drance or disability each day, and their job is to help them rk through problems and accomplish any tasks, some as ple as basic math, others pertaining to everyday life. The d between teammates is unbreakable, and often times it ms as if they are more like a little brother or sister.

Project teammate is an ideal class for a responsible, passionate and caring student. The students must have will to become an unconditional friend. As always, their y be certain situations that make a student uncomfortable, as the course progresses most students begin to under- nd situations more in depth, and therefore their comfort- e no matter what.

It was Mrs. Levine's dream to integrate students with cial needs students, so in ____ her and Mrs. Shea wrote a riculum, and appropriately titled the course "Project Team- te." Mrs. Levine has made an significant impact on both ular students and special needs students' lives. The im- t that Mrs. Levine has made is profound and immeasur- e. Her kindness, warmth, and gentle personality made her perfect person and maybe one of the only people who ld accomplish such a feat. Her presence will be felt in rs to come, while Mrs. Shea continues to run the project mmate program.

Boys Basketball

TAKE IT TO THE RACK

At the start of December it seemed hough the basketball season had already n written off. It was going to be another son of David vs. Goliath (Hornets being vid) except with a different ending. You w what I'm talking about, the depressing son where the talent never develops. yers and coaches thought cognitively, s did not. This season was not the same story.

Let's introduce three of the most pected players in the Hock, starting with tt Holt. The kid has got hops, he can flat jump with the best of them. He is tough, plays hard, and he is cash from the outside. is the ultimate athletic two-guard, erything you would want. Starting at point ard is the second of the tri-captains, Ryan rdy. This player has got game, he reads press and settles his team in the half court as well as any high school point guard. Can you court awareness? Last but not least we have our otball stud, Jared Giblin. Let's look at the finition of the word unsung: adj. not honored or ised; uncelebrated. Are you kidding me? This kid s that description perfectly. While he does not the recognition, he was the unsung hero of this sketball team, his physical play on the offensive ards and knack for playing hard nose defense rung the team in the right direction the second lf of the season.

These guys were P.T.P.ers, because of their ent and leadership. Gordy commented, "Jared blin is the best teammate you will ever have, he always positive and pushes you at all times"

Coach Traister, with the help of his three nior leaders made the season into no David and oliath battle. He made it competitive. His intensity d strong desire for winning was evident after a ow 3-9 start. He rallied the team and with the help of underclassmen: J.P. Sidhu, Tyler D'Ambra, and Joe Blacker, and role aying seniors: John Davis, Andy St. James, Leo MacDonald, and Peter Stadniuk made a complete turn around. Oh yeah, lets t forget that sick freshman Corey Eason, he was devastating on the boards. Tri-captain Matt Holt said, "The Cardinal ellman game at home was the turning point in the season, we played real well and everything was kind of flowing. It gave us lot of confidence in ourselves, beating a team like that who had a 12-2 record at the time."

The Hornets finished their season at 9-11, missing the tournament by only one win. They did however, deliver back back victories over Southeastern and Dedham to capture the Roundball Classic Championship for the first time in history.

Boys Indoor Track

ANOTHER STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

"Losing...never heard of it", imed Senior Captain Michael Lawlor. The 04 season for Boys Indoor Track was a am come true. They ended the season h the first ever Boys Indoor Track Division State Championship. Despite two key uries to seniors Terry Young Gerry Willete team still worked hard towards succes. rtain athletes such as Mike Lawlor, Derek cune, Jon Antonucci, Jeremy Langton, l Mike Watson stepped up and lead the m to its undefeated season.

Most of he Mansfield Boys suc- s was due to the widespread contribu- ns of several athletes. Michael Lawlor ke the school record for the 600 meters, ile Senior Derek Mccune broke his own ool record for the shot put. Mccune and ior Jon Antonucci were consistently ong the top shot putters in the ckomock League. The long distance was cov- d by junior superstar Mike Watson who ran a rsonal best 4:30.2 mile and is now less than a f a second off the school record. While Lawlor, tson, Mccune, and Antonucci hammered down ir events there was still one event crucial to nsfield's succes, the 4x4 relay.

Mansfield's 4x4 Relay team was made up seniors Michael Lawlor and Steve Stanley as ll as juniors Jeremy Langton and Mike Watson. ngton ran the first leg starting each time in his rfected three-point stance. Steve "Flash" nley, ran the 2nd leg of the event and was regu- ly ahead of the competition. Watson was the rd leg of the race and it was no mistake because gave his anchor Michael Lawlor a dominating ge going into the last stretch. Lawlor was rarely en by the human eye because of his significant eed on top of the enormous lead he was con- ually granted. The relay team would prove to be portant in the state championship, but there was no worries because the kids stepped up. When Lawlor crossed the finish e with the baton in his hand, the boy's season was complete. They were Massachusetts State Champions and, "it was the eatest moment ever, for all of us," said Lawlor.

HAMPS...FROM START TO FINISH

The Mansfield High School ls Indoor Track Team was toppable. They dominated the komock League. They owned the ss C Championship. They regulated Massachusetts Division III State mpionship.

The team went undefeated in Hockomock League with an standing record of 7-0-1. The one ame against Franklin, who was the season league favorite. This tie was the beginning of all so powerful nsfield snowball.

The team was led by four komock all-stars, senior captain cia Harrison, senior Kristin erlander, and juniors Katie Brague Kailin Collins. Harrison was undefeated in the komock League in the shot put. Oberlander s also undefeated in the high jump. At Hocks, gue and Collins placed first in the mile and the - mile, respectively. After cruising to the komock Championship, the girls did not seem npletely satisfied. They wanted more. They nted it all.

No one could stop these girls from reaching r goal. They knew why they came together every urday. They wanted to unite. To show everyone y truly were the best in the state of ssachusetts. At states, the toughest competition s Bishop Feehan High School, who was dicted to win out...When it was all said and ne, the Mansfield Girls won by more than twenty nts. This was the end for these girls. They had ved to be the best ever in Mansfield Girls Indoor Track. Now all that is left for the girls is to hang another uple of banners high on the walls of the Albertini Gymnasium.

Ice Hockey

BASH BROTHERS

The 2003-2004 varsity hockey
n finished with a 6-13-1 record, af-beginning the season strongly. It med as if the team would make the e tournament early on, as it developed attern of winning two out of every e games. That pattern was broken as team headed into the second half of season, needing ten points to earn an y into the tournament; and having to so against the best teams in all of Dion III. At the end of the year, the team scraped together thirteen points, en shy of a tournament birth.

Although the season was ultiely a disappointment to both the play-and coaches, there were many posithings that came out of it. Fans saw emergence of Sean Ryan, perhaps one the most underrated players in the komock League. Sean, a junior, finished the son with 19 total points, narrowly missing, in at some may call a snub, a Sun Chronicle All-r selection. Freshman Brian Yanovitch lived up his almost "Lebron" like hype, silencing many ptics and earning both the respect of his teamtes and opposing teams. Pat Carroll and Jared derson, both juniors, along with sophomore ke Colleran, were named to the Sun Chronicle
-Star team. Despite the team's losing record, ior captain and goalie Ryan MacLean kept most nes from becoming embarrassing, and played d all year as he led the team by example along h co-captains David Brais and John Cunio.

Expectations are high for next year's m, as they look to put last year's disappointing son behind them. The team can only go up from e, and is most likely going to, as the core of team will be juniors and seniors. Captain Tom rrick has high hopes, saying: "Everyone already s a great attitude and is starting to work, whether conditioning or scheduling summer programs.
gained experience from last year, we are going to take that and channel it into the final product that we are all looking to oduce. There is no way this team will not make the state tournament next year. You can quote me on that."

The 2004 Mansfield Wrestling Team finished 3rd out of 4 teams at the State Tournament Meet. The team was led by co-captains Jason Noonan and Shamus Perry and its junior stars Mark Disanto and Jim Connors. Perry finished 3rd at 171 lbs, while Disanto and Connors both finished 2nd at 112 lbs and 275 lbs, respectively. Thomas Creeden, 215 lbs., and Dave Arnold, 103 lbs., both finished sixth in the state tournament. The placements of these wrestlers helped the team earn 3rd place overall at states. Mansfield's performance at the State Tournament was unprecedented.

The 2004 season was highlighted by a dominating performance from Senior Captain Jason Noonan. Noonan capped off the season by doing what no other member of Mansfield Wrestling has ever done. Noonan was the 2004 Massachusetts State Champion at 160 pounds. He beat his opponent in the State Tournament in an outstanding double overtime match, prevailing as champion. Noonan's strength and perseverance during the State Championship Match was the reason for Mansfield's dominance in the tournament. His accomplishment provided the other wrestlers with guidance and a great role model as well.

The team finished the season with a record of 9-6 in the Hockomock League. There is a bright future for the team as it featured only two seniors this season. The team earned a lot of help from its underclassmen both in the regular season and the tournament. They posted big wins during the season in their weight classes, which propelled Mansfield to nine victories in the Hockomock. "...our best memory of the 2004 season was our 3rd place finish as a team in the State Tournament. It was great."- Senior Captain Jason Noonan. Mansfield Wrestling made a name for itself this winter and will be granted a significant amount of respect in the future from teams across the state.

When the gym was taken over by groans of frustration and complaints of the team's play the MHS cheerleaders always responded. While the scores and stats of each game may not account for this group of athletes, the crowd couldn't help but be impressed by their presence at every game.

Under the guidance of Coach Sharon Guthrie the team worked hard every week to come up with as many as six different routines to be used during each of the Hornet's time outs. Captains Courtney Donahue and Amanda McNeil brought their creativity in the mix, by inventing new stunts and cheers to WOW the fans. On the top of every pyramid was senior Christine Connolly, who along with Courtney cheered on the basketball team all four years of high school.

The entire squad consisted of a group of dedicated supporters. The girls stood behind every Mansfield team, and also stood by each other. Together they overcame hardships and obstacles that deeply united them as a close-knit team.

The cheerleaders could easily be spotted at every home game, sitting alongside the court yelling louder than any other fan. Their never ending spirit and energy kept up morale, and helped bring the Mansfield teams to victory.

LET'S GET READY TO TUMMMBLE

A common misconception in orts is the thought that derclassmen athletes don't respond ell to pressure. Mansfield mnastics, one year removed from Hockomock Championship had veral underclassmen step up. eshman Laura Angers was selected the team MVP performing nsistently throughout the season. phomore Maddie Gambale was animously voted as the most dicated girl on the team and placed in the states on the beam. The am was comprised of nine freshmen d sophomores combined, indicating right outlook for the future.

Seniors, Lisa Giammanco, ssica Introini, and Nicole Wotton were e veteran emotional leaders of the team, eeping the team's goals in perspective ch day of the season. Their influence on e younger kids was like watching a other nudge her kids off to pre-school d happily watch them succeed. They ntinuously made the underclassmen ork hard, teaching them that practice does t make perfect, perfect practice makes rfect. The three girls will leave the team is year knowing that their influence will ad the team to a positive future.

The team finished the season fourth the Hockomock league, after placing first st season. Considering the major loss of me key athletes who graduated, the team d a solid season. While they did not defend their Hock championship, the girls did not get down on emselves. Their imperfections will only cause them to work harder in the future and bring the title back ithin coming years. It was a respectable season for the Hornet Gymnastics team and the program is here stay, despite being only four years old.

NEVER SURRENDER

As the Mansfield Football team entered their last game of the year, tensions were high as two undefeated power-houses stormed onto the frozen tundra of Brockton's Marciano Stadium. The Mansfield Hornets and the Swampscott Big Blue entered the game as the two hottest teams in the state. Both were 12-0 and the press built the game up to be one of the best games in the history of Massachusetts. Due to a major snow storm, the game was postponed and the two teams struggled to find indoor practice facilities. The Hornets practiced at the Norfolk Indoor Facility and shared Boston College's Alumni Field with Everett for one night.

Coach Mike Redding predicted that this game would be an offensive shoot-out. In a pre-game interview Redding stated that, "these two teams are capable of putting a lot of points on the board. This game is a must-see for everyone that loves football." Despite all of the hype of the two offenses leading up to game time, the defense stole the show early in the game. The game was scoreless with just under two minutes remaining in the first half, when the Hornets recovered a fumble and proceeded to score twice before half time. In an evenly fought first half, it seemed that the game would continue to be a hard fought war. The Hornets did not let that happen as the green and white unmercifully sufficated the life out of the fading Big Blue. The Hornets put the game out of reach quickly in the second half and went on to win the game 28-6. This complete and utter embarrasment of the "mighty" Big Blue silenced all the critics that doubted the Hornets throughout the year. This domination was a clear indication that the Hornets were truly the best team in the state of Massachusetts.

As the seniors left the field for the last time as high school football players, the reality began to sink in that they had just made history. Finishing their careers with the best three-year record in school history, these blood brothers only suffered a defeat on three occasions. The class of 2004 will forever be embedded into the realms of high school football's greatest teams as the first team in school history to win thirteen games. The team began thier quest for "the ring" as boys in Pop-Warner and they left Marciano Stadium as a band of brothers whose ties of friendship will never be broken.

SPRING

Spring marks a time of renewal. Flowers blossoming, sunshine beaming, summer is almost here! Life has finally begun to emerge from the bitter frost of winter.

The new warmth of this season brings us onto green playing fields seeking both glory and victory. Anxieties over prom, finals, and planning for college, consume our minds.

Spring break is our first taste of the approaching summer and the freedom that comes with it. But for all, it is a bittersweet realization that everything will soon be changing and seniors will face unfamiliar territory. As one chapter in our lives comes to a close, we await the journey that we are about to embark upon.

THE PROM...2003

"CATCH A FALLING STAR"

The stars were shining brightly upon the procession of limos that arrived at the Mansfield Junior/Senior Prom. Sparkling from head to toe, everyone was dressed to the nines, ready for a night to remember. Accompanied by friends and dates, the anticipation rose as the doors to Christina's in Foxboro were open on May 2 at 7 p.m. Greeted by awaiting parents and faculty, the excitement of what was to come was overwhelming.

Silver and blue stars, sparkling lights and balloon centerpieces engulfed the Junior and Senior class as they searched for their tables. Thanks to the Prom Committee's hard work and dedication, the night was sure to be great. When students finished socializing and snapping pictures with their closest friends and their dates, dinner was served. There was a variety of pasta, beef, and salad. The biggest hit were the dinner rolls! With a full stomach, the students on the dance floor began to buzz with energy. Songs such as "Cotton Eye Joe" and the "Electric Slide" were among the favorites. As the night came to an end, the prom court was announced. Derek Franzen and Ashley D'Ambra were crowned King and Queen, accompanied by their court of Ashley Shaker, Michelle Whitty, Jessica Introini, Derek McCune, Terry Young, and Bill O'Brien. They danced in the spotlight to the prom song, "Take My Breath Away," from "Top Gun." As the song ended and the lights brightened, everyone hurried off to find their dates and head off to post-prom parties. Last minute photos were snapped and plans were finalized. Although the night was over, the memories and pictures of Mansfield's 2003 prom will last forever.

Quebec

Mr. Kelly kept up his February tradition of a trip to icy Quebec City.Upon arrival the students were antsy and quickly filed off the bus with an enthusiastic approach to the four upcoming days. They kicked off the trip by taking part in Quebec's Winter Carnival. Frozen solid, they made their way to Café Paris to warm up with authentic Canandiene cuisine. Later in the evening they took in a 3-D movie on the largest screen in North America. The following morning, they experienced the quaint atmosphere and historical elements of old Quebec. Following the detailed tour the students suited up for an adventurous afternoon at La citadel to the Village Des Sports in Valcarties. After conquering Mount Everest, they left the park and returned to the hotel to dine at L'Astral one of the beautiful restaurants at the top of the hotel. On the last day of the trip the group spent a bone-chilling morning standing over an eye-catching waterfall. The students then went to the mall, Les Galeries de la Capitale where they soaked up some Canadian fashion. For the daring kids there was an entertaining amusement park located in the middle of the mall, which housed personal favorite rides such as bumper cars and roller coasters. After four fun-filled days the students had to bid farewell to the beautiful city. They left with fond memories and souvenirs they will cherish forever. Ciao Quebec!

TEAM COCOA EXPO

Sounds of wooden bats cluttered the gym as es continuously bounced off the walls. The baseball began their season setting a work ethic which would hem right into the state tournament. The team was y its co-captains, Jim Abreau and Scott Kessler. au's enthusiastic approach to games, and work ethic g practices made him a great choice for captain in . He set a precedent for his teammates, and gave the es a hand with their expectations to go deep into the ament. Abreau also displayed excellent- ness at the conquering the Hockomock Batting Title with an ge of .463. Scott Kessler's poise on the field echoed the roster of players, keeping everyone focused. ler was a key contributor as well, playing solid se at shortstop and providing well pitched innings e mound.

Aside from its captains, the team had several important players. Senior Brett Barclift played a role in the batting lineup hitting clean up with an ge of .452, and 24 RBI's. Junior Ryan Kent dominated rs with his fastball and astounding curve in his arances. He finished the season with the best ERA on the and will be the team's ace in 2004. Junior John Davis ht along with Senior Matt Quinn for the Hornets in 2003. exceptional play will earn him the starting job in 2004. or, Tim Johnston played a lot of third base as well as rs Matt Kershaw and Pete Flaherty. Johnston hit for an age of .364 and will be an important part of the lineup in pring. Junior Dan Buckley who was called up half way gh the season, saw limited action but was nothing short ectacular in his appearances on the mound. At second he will be in the running for a starting spot in the spring. omore Jeremy Langton was a stand out player starting of the games in center field and earning himself a spot on oxboro legion team for the summer. Jeremy will be a key ibutor as a junior in 2004.

The spring season was measured as triumphant by ies, and players. When asked, captain Scott Kessler said, as definitely a successful season. We went 11-9 making urnament and our goals were reached although it would been nice to beat Milton in the tourney." It was a good n for the baseball program. The team will look to improve their record in the spring of 2004, hoping for another omock title.

Although some key players have graduated, the ets will still have a strong pitching staff for 2004, maybe the strongest it's ever been. Hitting will be the key for the team as they need players l the shoes of seniors who produced a colossal offense. Team work and leadership will be vital as always for the success of next year's team. ll have a lot of good pitching and some big name players returning. Offense is going to be the question mark for us in the spring; we will need ll through with big hits to ensure a spot in the top of the Hock," said John Davis, co-captain elect for 2004 who will lead the team along with aptain John Sperazza.

The thought of tournament play will be too exciting to grasp for the softball team in the spring of 2004. Missing tournament by just one game last season, the returning starters will be hungry for that tenth win which will give them a seed in the tournament. The Hornets had a good season last spring finishing 9-6 after an 0-4 start. New head coach Brian Clemmey rallied his girls to a 9-2 record in their last eleven games. It was a dramatic season and it came down to the very last game. The team played with heart and its senior leaders took on a huge role, not letting this team give up after a slow start.

The softball team ended their 2003 season dramatically, with a disappointing rain out. In the last game of the season they played into the fourth inning of the game, an inning they needed to finish to make it an official game. The weather conditions were awful and the home plate umpire decided he'd had enough and called the game, which they would not be able to make up. This was a disappointing call for the girls who had come so close and were dreaming of going into the tournament winning ten of their last twelve games.

Captains Mallory Todesco and Carolyn Egan each had the best season of their careers at Mansfield High. Not only did these girls act like captains on the field, but off the field they demonstrated great leadership and did not give up. Their approach to those games was a key factor in the comeback that the Hornets made. Seniors Katelyn Lambalot and Jill Blacker also had great seasons setting high precedents for the underclassmen.

Junior Leanne Bertrand played left field and will be a key component to their outfield in 2004. She was one of the fastest girls on the team, giving them a lot of speed on the base paths. Bertrand will be working hard in the off-season to get better, "I'm very excited about the upcoming season. It'll be a lot of work but at the same time fun." Leanne is ready to take on her responsibilities as a captain and leader of the team. Coach Clemmey will look to see improvement in all of his returning players. He is eager to see some new faces at tryouts and hopefully young talented players for his varsity team. Story by Tim Johnston

Mansfield dominated in 2003 securing the title of Hockomock Champs. Th team was lead to victory by Coach Craig Juel who has great knowledge and respect for th game. He helped shape the team's skill an leadership and set goals for the players t reach. "We all came up with winning the leagu as our top goal," said Juelis. He eventuall formed the players into a well disciplined tea with the determination to win. Lacrosse is fairly new sport at MHS, so defeatin prominent teams such as Franklin and Kin Phillip left all fans awestruck at how much th Mansfield lacrosse team has improved sinc it was first established in 1999. Since the tea started, their record has been improving ea year.

The 2003 senior captains Chris Kile Derek Franzen, and James McCarthy showe leadership in setting an example for their fello players. Goalie Chris Kiley was impenetrabl and was a key part in Mansfield's succes Starting defenders Brian Kiley, Ryan MacLea and David Felton made Kiley's job in goal a lot easier, keepin all opponents away from the net.

The team will see talent from returning starters an juniors Chris Snow and Frank Unger in 2004. Sophomore Arle Shaw will be showcased as a key player in the upcomin years. With Coach Jeulis' positive approach and th commendable team captains, they have learned to get alon with one another, and to play together as a team. "A lot of th players have been teammates since they began so they kno each other's habits," says midfielder Zac Eagan, proving tha knowing your teammates really does make a difference in th success of a team.

For seasons to come, the main goals of the team wil be to win the title of Hockomock Champions once again. "Ou goal is to make it back to the state tournament for the fourt consecutive year and to be Hock champs again," said attac man Evan Gilbertson. Coach Jeulis will also be preparing fo the upcoming season, but knows that you cannot expect wha will happen. "Our team gets better each year," said Juelis "On any given day you don't know what is going to happe or which way the ball will bounce. We're going to take it gam by game and practice by practice."

GIRLS VARSITY LACROSSE

CHICKS WITH STICKS

Since starting as a varsity sport in Mansfield in 1999, the girls lacrosse team has proven that they are here to stay. This close knit group of girls were always full of team spirit and always had each other to lean on. They describe themselves as a family and Coach Payeur as the cool aunt they never had. As they unite on game days wearing their green and white kilts and jerseys they become a team of one. This unity gives them their competitive edge on the field.

The team had their most exciting game when they faced off against Medfield. Proving to be a tough team from their previous win over Mansfield the week before, Medfield was sure to bring the same intensity to the field. It was an exciting game, with Mansfield's defensive line led by Lindsay Wallace and Jill Grant, who were great at covering the crease. Nicole Flynn, one of the teams best players, lead a strong offensive line with her amazing side arm shot. Courtney O'Connor also added to the team's intensity by being a top scorer. In the last few minutes of the game, Jessica Keefe was close to scoring the winning goal but it was blocked by Medfield's goalie. The team almost won the game, but the two teams tied with a final score of 13.

Jesse Keefe smiled while recalling the memories of the 2003 season. "The team has strong underclassmen and we all play well together." Besides the Medfield game, she recalled when the boys lacrosse team came to challenge them. The game was a surprise to the girls as well as a tool for learning. "Coach Payeur wanted us to learn how to communicate better, like the boys do," said Jesse Keefe. In a long scrimmage, while switching coaches and sticks, the girls got advice on how to communicate better on the field.

With tears of joy and sadness upon them, the girls said their goodbyes to the seniors and departing coach and opened their arms to new experiences. They hope to improve their record and find even more success in 2004. Coach Payeur agreed, "the 2004 season will be one of the best at Mansfield High School. The impact of the youth program is starting to show and the class of 2004 is an amazing group of lacrosse athletes."

BOYS VARSITY TENNIS

WINNING IN STRAIGHT SETS

In 2003, the Mansfield High School boys tennis team finished with an outstanding record of 15-5, which qualified them for the state tournament, a normality under the guidance of Coach Peter Larson.

Giovanni Cuscina who was named to the Hockomock All-Star Team and awarded team MVP by his peers, captained the team with Craig Desmond. Both Giovanni and Craig fulfilled their duties as captains and did an excellent job teaching and leading a team comprised of mostly underclassmen to the state tournament. The team experienced success at the tournament, quickly advancing through the first round only to lose a hard fought match to the eventual Division II South Champion Wellesley in the second round.

Playing well throughout the tenure of their junior campaign, Ryan Maxwell and Denis Condon look strong heading into their senior season as tri-captains with Giovanni. Sophomores Anuj Agrawal and Greg Morse played well and contributed greatly to the team's birth in the state tournament. "Anuj and Greg showed improvement as the year progressed and they should both really help out this year," said Coach Larson.

During the 2004 season, expect the team to surpass the 15 win total of the 2003 season by building upon the experience gained by last year's sophomores, who comprised the majority of the team. With senior captains Giovanni Cuscina, Ryan Maxwell, and Denis Condon leading the way, followed by an amazingly talented junior class, and freshman prodigy Brett Governman, Coach Larson is guaranteeing success. "This year I am the most optimistic out of all seasons past. I usually try to play down our team's potential and talent level, but this year I just can't. We should be very good."

Mansfield continued to keep their title a one of the best teams in the Hockomock League durin the 2003 season. The girls have made tournament fo 15 straight years. This comes as no surprise to man as head Coach Diane Jackson has a tremendous tean full of talent.

Captains Erin Cavanagh and Holly Condon senior players Danielle Hamm and Katherine Brophy along with sophomore player Ashley Fallon led th team to tournament for the 15th straight year during th 2003 season. Juniors Alexis Loehlein, Kristen Mahoney, and Diana Eastman as well as sophomore Jessica Cohen and Maggie Hayes also gave their bes effort when it came to sending the ball back flying ove the net.

Returning starters for the 2004 Mansfiel High School tennis team are captains Alexis Loehlein the #3 singles player and, Diana Eastmen the #2 double player, will make an enormous impact on the team Returning starters Ashley Fallon, the #1 singles player Jessica Cohen and Maggie Hayes the #2 doubles players will hopefully bring the team back to tournament for 16th year.

At the end of season they united for a cookou at Coach Jackson's, where they exchanged gifts and ende the season on a high note. By enjoying a season wrap u together as a team they had many personal touches tha brought them all together not only as a team but also a friends.

Last season's record shows the scores that a the perseverance the tennis team had was extremel beneficial. With their first two matches against Plymout North and Ursuline Academy, they stuck it out to bea them both 3-2. Kristin Mahoney recalls first the gam win. "It was a real ego booster for the team. It was th first game of the season and we battled it out, even whe we were down and our team moral was slowing down. The varsity tennis team's journey toward success hadn been an easy one but thanks to their steadfast faith the showed their perserverance and dedication to the gam

The 2004 season looks promising wit returning captains, starters and with the beloved Coac Jackson who has been with Mansfield's tennis team fo over 20 years. "I think that we're going to be ver competitive again in the Hockomock League. We hav some quality underclassmen to replace our graduatin seniors and I'm very encouraged by the fact that s many girls are playing in the off season," Jackson sai

There are not many other words to describe the 2003 boys varsity track team here at Mansfield High School other than "perfect". Coach Collins worked her team through many strenuous workouts in the winter and fall, leading up to a championship in the spring. The boys finished 8 – 0 and won their first dual meet title in 21 years. Along with their championship, the boys team posted six new school records on the season.

The team was led by a group of explosive juniors, who carried the team in all areas of throwing, jumping, and sprinting. Junior Terry Young led the team in individual scoring with 232 points, followed by juniors Jerry Willette and Derek McCune with 177.32 and 99.32 respectively. These three boys were feared by coaches and other teams around the league because of their individual scoring abilities. All three received Hockomock League All-Star Awards. Selected as the MVP by his teammates, Terry Young was honored with the same award from the Hockomock League.

During this tremendous undefeated season, a group of underclassmen set new standards for Mansfield setting six new school records. Young set four new records, in the 110 hurdles, 300 hurdles, 100-meter dash, and in the 400 meters. Willete set a new standard for the discus this season with a throw of 156'7. The boys 4 x 400 meters relay team, made up of Brett McDermott, Mike Watson, Mike Lawlor and Terry Young, combined for a time of 3:29.43, the best time in school history.

Demonstrating their leadership qualities, Rob Fernandez, Jerry Willete, Mike Lawlor and Terry Young were named the 2004 team captains. After leading the team in the 2003 season to a perfect season, they are prepared to make another run at the Hockomock Championship in 2004.

Coach DiBiase and her girls won the Hock and went on to become Class C Champions.

GIRLS SPRING TRACK

A FAIRY TALE SEASON

In the words of their coach, Carolina DiBiase, the girls spring track in 2003 can be summed up as a fairy tale season. When the girls finished they had traveled further than anyone expected, including themselves. They ended their regular season with a 7-2 record and went on to win the Hockomock Title and the Class C State Meet. "We started the season with goals in mind but as the season went on we just got better and better, surpassing everything we expected," said coach DiBiase.

The large group of girls bonded together during spirit activities such as spaghetti dinners. "There was no one clique," says Tricia Harrison, the teams' leading point scorer and captain for 2004. "Everyone supported each other and it made everyone work harder," says Tricia. It was easy to see this, as six previous track records were broken by the girls in 2003. Some girls even broke their own records. The athletes were not plagued by many horrible injuries allowing them to remain strong all season. "We took it one meet at a time," said DiBiase.

With strength in the field and distance events like shot put and the mile, the team was able to get key points in meets and beat many of their opponents. Young runners like Kailin Collins and Katie Brague gave Mansfield the edge in the one and two mile and 800 meter races while Mansfield's throwers dominated the shot put and discus. In the true spirit of teamwork there was not one person carrying the team, everyone contributed to the team's success.

With many young runners on the team Coach DiBiase said the key to the season's success was the mature leadership provided by the upperclassmen and the overall positive attitude of the team. With such a young team doing so well previously, the coaches and returning athletes plan to make the 2004 season as good as the last. "We want to win the championship again," says DiBiase, hopeful that she and the girls will have another dream season.

SUMMER

School's out and freedom reigns. The long and vigorous journey that we have spent at MHS has come to an end. For the last four years we have walked the same hallways, ate in the same cafeteria, played in the same gym, and attended the same energizing rallies. Unlike the familiar setting of Jimmy's Pub and the Ninety-Nine after victorious football games, we will now be faced with new and unfamiliar settings as we embark on the adventures that lay ahead. We reminisced at the Senior All-Night party, danced at our last prom, walked for the last time as the Class of 2004 in polyester gowns at the Tweeter Center and said our goodbyes. With graduation over and our caps and gowns put away, we have one last summer to enjoy at Scussett and Old Silver Beach before the Class of 2004 sets out to conquer the world!

As SENIORS, we have seen the change of seasons 16 times since the first day of school. In the midst of the snow days and rainy afternoons, whether it was by choice or by force, we have grown up in this building and have learned more than just math and history. Over the past four years we've been through such a range of emotions and experiences, from the greats to the downright awfuls. Whatever we've experienced, we will walk away knowing that we were a part of something, part of the CLASS of 2004.

It seems like yesterday we were freshmen trying to fit in, trying to find our next class and our place in this class while trying to determine what our futures would look like. As we embark on a new journey, we say goodbye and await the changes our lives will take with the passing of time.

To everything, turn, turn, turn,
There is a season, turn, turn, turn,
And a time to every purpose under heaven...

Going through high school for me has definetly been a different kind of an experience. Being in ME, most of freshmen year and all of my junior year.Wakefield, MA most of my sophomore year, and the rest of the time has been spent here at Mansfield High, which is holding up to the saying. "3rd times a charm." I will always remember the people in my life; especially the ones that have helped me get back on my feet? Jeff Massery and Family, you will always be in my heart. Jon. O and my cuz Jen, Meg, John. G, and everyone else always remember the good times. :) Thank you to everyone that has ever been a part of my life, however big or small your part may have been, it made a difference to me.BasketBall 9 Gymnastics 10

What up this your boy D-Rizza 1/4 H.E.A.T a.k.a. D-Rizza. These four years in this school has been boring and slow. I remember every morning chillin at the spot where my peoples lay and the haters keep away. I remember writing raps for Mr. Modica and him supporting me. I remember me, Dakota, Jamaal, and Ray having freestyle battles at lunch. Out of all 4 years, 12th grade has been the craziest. Well there go all my memories I'm out of hurr aight, 1.Oh yea I forgot something??. G G G G G G G G G GUNIT!!! (yo dirrty look at that girl right thurr)

To all the friends I've made and lost over my childhood years I wish you the greatest of luck with your futures. To everyone who's been there for me through thick and thin I thank you for everything. You will never be forgotten, I hope to stay in your heart like you will be in mine. To the ones I've had crushes on and the ones I've done stupid things over... Ill never forget the good times lol. To my best and closest friends I will always remember the "good ol' days" of goofing off, hanging out, and joking around. I'm greatful for having the chance to receive my education at Mansfield High School. Throughout my 4 yrs at MHS,most of it has been a good experience for me. "Stepping" at the rallies in the gym,going to prom&having Independent Living w/ Ms.Caouette. Ind. Living gave me a look on the real world and what it has to offer me in the future. In that class I had a salary, I bought a car, I rented an apartment, then I bought a house. Overall that was a fun class and I would recommend it to anyone.Next,I would like to say What's up to my friends:TG, KH, QG, ND, KR, LH, JT, JG, GB, SP, AD, JM, LA, RB, CR, DE and my baby Pat Conley :) I also wanna give a shout out to the 2004 graduates.

My stay at Mansfield High has definetly been an interesting one. But between friends, work, and getting ready for the Marines I never really took the time to think about the fact that I might miss something about this place. But recently I realized that some of my best memories came from here. I won't bore anyone with the details but let me just leave you with this: it's been one heck of a ride, one that I'm proud to finally be at the end of. So tim, john, justin, luke (Marines all the way) and all my friends thanks for being there with me, it's been real. Wrestling 9,10,12

"Some of my Favorite memories are of the field hockey team and the games they won as myself as team manager and Ms. Levine as team coach. Being with the field hockey team has given me the best memories of running the victory lap around the field after winning a game. Other memories are of challenges; one specific memory is playing soccer and scoring many goals for my team. I also remember doing tables with Bruce and with Mr. Guy in the cafeteria. Going to Flint Farm and taking a ride on the hayride then going into the corn maze with all my friends from project teammate. After the maze we went to Big Y and did a scavenger hunt and took a tour of the store and got to pet a lobster. Help Mr. Guy 9-12, Help Ms. Monroe 9-12, Chorus 9-12 Wood Shop 9-12, Helped Carol

SANDSTORM! Running every day after school. 10:31.82 - 2/1/03 - Greatest athletic day of my life, let's see if I hit 10:00 by the time this comes out. Team championships in track. Math team - 4 years in states, I hope. Getting asked random math problems by everyone, and sometimes beating the calculator, but always getting it right. The famous "Show me the Money" speech running 4 treasurer of the freshman class - lost. Losing two more elections, but bringing the Sandstorm in my last speech. MHS TASTES THE SWEETNESS OF ANOTHER SUPER BOWL

The New England Patriots have spoiled the people of the northeast with two of the last three Super Bowl Championships. After the MHS football team went undefeated en route to a Super Bowl Championship, the Pats didn't disappoint. After a slow start they won fifteen in a row on their way to a second title in as many years.

In Super Bowl XXXVI, Adam Vinatieri kicked a game winning field goal as the trickled down to zero. Most kickers only dream about an opportunity to win a Championship game as time expires. Adam Vinatieri has not only dreamed it, he has lived it on two occasions on the biggest stage in football. On February 1, 2004, Tom Brady amazed the nation again with another last minute drive to put Vinatieri in the spotlight once again. Vinatieri put the pigskin through the pipes once more to complete what many call the best Super Bowl in history. Behind the arm of Super Bowl MVP Tom Brady and the most dominating defense in the league the Patriots found themselves on the podium for the second time in three years.

The fans of New England rejoiced at Government Center in Boston just two days after the Pats claimed the Lombardi Trophy. One and a half million fans piled in front of the City Hall and along the streets of Boston for the parade. It was a day to remember as the players thanked the fans for their continued support over the course if the season. The fans of New England have a good chance to pile into Boston again over the next few years as most of the team will return.

In more ways than one, football played a huge part in the lives of MHS students. Whether you were wearing the green at Memorial Park or rooting for the Pats at Gilette Stadium, football was everywhere in 2004. Can you spell S-u-p-e-r-B-o-w-l!?!

We wish you enough sun to keep your attitude bright.
We wish you enough rain to appreciate the sun more.
We wish you enough happiness to keep your spirit alive.
We wish you enough pain so that the smallest joys in life appear much bigger.
We wish you enough gain to satisfy your wanting.
We wish you enough loss to appreciate all that you possess.
We wish you enough "Hello's" to get you through the final "Good-bye."
Take the time to live! Nurture your mind with great thoughts, for you will never go any higher than you think.

Congratulations!

Our Dee,

From school days to dress up days and all the days of your life, you have been an angel sent from heaven. You have always done your best and made us proud so continue on your successful path and have a wonderful life and thank-you for being the daughter we were always able to brag about!

Love Daddio, Mom, Jaclyn & Honey

Kelly Whittaker

To our wonderful Kelly,

Always look back on your school days with happiness and pride. Treasure your friendships and know the love and support that your family will always have for you. You have brought us so much joy throughout your whole life. We hope your dreams for the future will all come true. Just remember to be the very best person you can be in everything that you do. The future is all yours.

We love you so very much,

Mom, Dad and Andrew XOXOX

JACKIE FECK

Dad and I are so very proud of all your accomplishments over the past eighteen years, however we take the most pride in the woman that your have become. You are such a happy, caring, friendly, fair, open-minded and intelligent individual. You are a great role model for all people. We couldn't have asked for a better daughter. The world and all your future peers are in for a real treat! As you leave us for your independence, remember that we will always be here for you, supporting you in all that you do. We love you so very much. Congratulations!

With one chapter in our lives closing, another opens. The pages continue to turn with more opportunities, possibilities and challenges. For some, the idea of leaving friends and family, and even high school is a bit unsettling as we exit our comfort zone and enter unfamiliar territory. Yet it is the risks we are going to take, no matter how small, which demonstrate our maturity, separating us from the freshmen we once were to the graduating seniors we are now.

Upon approaching the end of senior year with June 7th just around the corner, it is increasingly obvious that we will be leaving MHS. Departing from the freshmen-blocked corridors, trashcans that show "Mansfield Pride", twenty minute lunch breaks and second block announcements, we'll say farewell to the only bathroom open during the day, rallies, lockerooms, teachers and coaches. But the memories and experiences that we have shared at MHS will never die. The presence of the Class of 2004 will comtinue to live on, thriving off all our accomplishments and what they have brought to Mansfield High School.

The class of 2004, in its simpliest essence, is a powerful and unique group of individuals. We have each left our mark here, and likewise have impacted eachother in one way or another throughout the years. As we depart and embark upon our future, let us look back on our experience at MHS as one that was unforgettable. I'm HONORED to be graduating with the most promising and finest of intellectuals. Thank you for the memories and good luck as you set out to conquer the world!

Andy St. James

The transition between high school and college is going to be a grounbreaking experience for most of us. We fear the unknown and worry about losing the friends that we have had for so long. Friendships may fade and the names that once went with those faces in the hallways will disappear, but the one constant that will endure over time is our memories of the lives we led as restless and rebelious adolescents. We are all about to embark on our separate journeys in life, yet our roots will always be planted in Mansfield.

The foundation for life that we have all laid down before us will propel us into our adulthood. The memories that we have all accumulated over the years are the basis of this maturing process. Personally, the most moving and powerful experience that I have had in my high school career was to be a part of the 2003 Super Bowl Championship team. I now know that every time I return to MHS there will be a trophy outside the gym and a banner opposite the Green Hulk. Most importantly I will have the memories of winning a championship with my best friends. The things that you do with your friends echo in eternity. No matter what it is that you did over your four years at MHS, you have all left your mark. All of the memories that you have of these past four years can never be taken away from you. I feel honored and privileged to have been a part of such a special group of people.

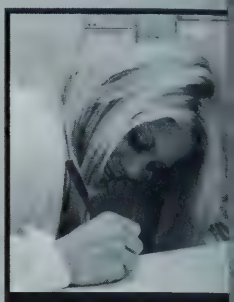
Here's to our memories. Here's to the exciting road ahead ... Cheers! :)

Ms. Murphy, adviser to the insanity

Ok, ready? Unless your picture is on this page, there is no way you could ever begin to understand the amount of work necessary in putting this book together. We can tell you, but even then you'll never know. We spent hundreds of hours in my classroom staring at computer screens, figuring out how to use stickers with directions, power flipping, coming up with catch phrases for dum-dums and twizzlers, and cropping and re-cropping. The students pictured here adopted a "whatever it takes" motto. The senior editors helped with the sports pages, the business editors helped write copy; the list is endless. After witnessing first hand the commitment and dedication these seniors gave freely to this project, there is no greater feeling than seeing them crack open the cover for the first time and the pride and accomplishment that simply oozes out of them as they flip through each page. Each one is a writer, a photographer, an editor, a publisher, and a salesman of the one book that will forever represent this class. I could not be more proud of them, or of the final product, which, after seven months of hard work, is laid out for you within the pages of this "Season Finale". I spent my Tuesday nights with a comma king, a woodshop activist who knows no limit with a digital camera, a weird-pix stylist, a little monster, a boys track expert who couldn't fool me, a girl with a contagious laugh, two bathroom stall swingers, an excel expert among girls who could look at pictures for hours on end, and a wicked sick DJ who loved to lock and willingly gave up LOTR for ImageIn. For the love of blank white boards and chairs with wheels, cups of tea and betting my ipod, fights over OAR or the Dixie Chicks, kudos on the best yearbook MHS has ever seen!

Andy St. James

Eating candy, writing on white-boards, arguing about woodshop, going out for drives for food or ads, watching American Idol, listening to Dixie Chicks, sometimes doing stuff that actually had to do with yearbook.



Jackie Feck

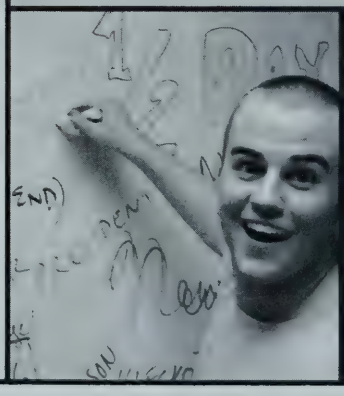
Listening to Murph repeatedly tell me to "file save, file close" and get off the computer so we can go home...you've created a monster!

Kelly Whittaker

Eating, swinging from the bathroom stalls, and finding any possible excuse to leave and take random pictures with Kate and Jen.

Laura Wheeler

I attempted to earn money for the yearbook, but mostly I talked to Steph and drank ice coffee's and looked at all the funny pictures everyone took during meetings.



What Were You Doing

Tuesday Nights Senior Year?

Matt Holt

Rolling around in a chair, eating Wendy's, and occasionally doing some WICKED sick stuff for yearbook. Red Sox 2004 BABY!

Steph Warner

I spent all my time in front of "my" computer in room 188. It may have looked like I was working, but I was really just talking to Laura and laughing at all the funny pics.

Courtney Donahue

Listening to the guys & girls fight over radio stations while sifting through piles of pics, and helping Ms. Murphy stare down people who were oblivious to the fact that she caught them slacking on their work.

Jen Duggan

Watching American Idol, "taking pictures" at basketball games, popping popcorn and always doing my work!

Justin Nanfelt

I was putting my precious time and effort into this book you are reading to make some final memories of the seniors. (Or at least until the ten year reunion)

John Davis

On Tuesday nights during senior year, I did everything that Ms. Murphy said to do and avoided Boys Track as long as possible and then re-did it more than necessary.

Abbey Turner

I pretended to do work, while I was really looking at all the weird 80's pictures of the teachers. At the end I decided to get down to business with the sports deadlines.

Tim Johnston

Playin' on the Mac (Windows is better), bangin' out crazy articles and makin' some fun of the G-man.

Katelyn Sankey

Trapped in a white-walled classroom shifting thru mass amounts of pics and listening to the constant sounds of keys on the computer. My only savior was the package gumballs beside me

Caitlin Troy

On Tuesday nights I was just playing with lights until I started plotting in the yearbook room
